

Collect Email Headers in Outlook for Windows

Last Modified on 23/01/2020 2:58 pm GMT

Email Headers contain the metadata for the email. It contains important information of where the email has been and how it was processed.

Support may sometimes ask you to send us Email Headers. You can find these in Outlook 2013 and later for Windows with the below steps.

1. Open Outlook
2. Open the Email in a new window (double click the email)
3. Select 'File > Properties'

4. The Headers can be found in the Internet Headers field
